this for the first time found vent in a decided expression. The cry was zoon taken ap and spread rapidly. The crowd around the jail soon reached 10,000 people. There seemed to be about 200 men in the lead, who took the initiative in all steps, but said little. As soon as it was learned in the jail that the mob was outside, Sheriff Hawkins called up Fire Marshal Bunker by telephone. The riot alarm was sounded, and the Sheriff and posse made all preparations to repel attack.

Was instantly killed. The flames went their own way because the mob would not let the division, and was ment down was possible, while from other portions a thin white-colored smoke and steam was rising, as the ture was strongly built at a cost of probably a quarter of a million, and was made to with the most was possible. A NIGHT OF BLOOD. A NIGHT OF BLOOD.

A STATE MUSIC HARL Adjourned last night, the attention of the people was attracted by a shout from a young man, who cried out: "To the jail! Come on, follow me and hang Berner!" Although there might have been an intention to organize a mob, this for the first time found vent in a decided expression. The cry was goon taken ap and own way because the mob would not let the storm of the situation.

A NIGHT OF BLOOD.

MIDNIGHT.—Such a night of blood as this his morning an Associated Press reporter walked through the quarter of the city where the stormy scenes of the previous night had been enacted. The dawning was as peaceful and brilliant as ever seen. Against the exquisitely-tinted sky in the east the broken walls of the burning Court-house were distinctly defined, with its crumbled windows, the openings looking like rude wounds. tlement regarding their paying their cook; that Ah Mon became enraged and assaulted him with a pistol. City Attorney Anderson reduced what he said to writing. He lived just two hours after the shooting, dying at 1 P. M. His remains were taken to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held this evening. The murderer, Ah Mon, belongs to the Fong Hock Tong Lodge—the Charley Ah Sing crowd—and is said to be a desperate individual. The friends of the murdered man are very desirous that Ah Mon should be punished for the crime, and have offered a reward of $100 for his capture. The advertisement, giving a description of the murderer, will be found in the advertising columns. The shooting was done within 200 feet of J street, which at that time was thronged with pedestrians, and it seems almost miraculous that no one else was killed. COMMISSIONER HOAG'S LETTER. The following letter, dated at Sacramento

Hon. L. C. Granger—Dear Sir: Referring to our conversation to-day on the subject of the semi-tropical climate, productive soil and general adaptability of the foothill sections of Butte county to successful cultivation of all varieties of fruits and nuts, including the orange, lemon and lime, the olive, English walnut and almond, together with the grape for either wine or raisins, I desire to call your attention to the fact that the great extent and many advantages of that section are comparatively upadvantages of that section are comparatively known outside of the immediate section itself ost valuable portion of immigrants to settle up ad develop the great unoccupied territory of thi tate, Northern California is but little known, and State, Northern California is but little known, and seldom thought of, while Southern California is a household word in every family, and the subject of conversation around every fireside.

In the East Los Angeles is California, the "promised land" of the Pacific coast. The reason is simple and plain. Southern California has for years been sending elegant publications, illustrative and descriptive of the many advantages of the soil and climate, the health and wealth of that section, all over the Eastern country, and they have penetrated almost every farm-house, while Northern California has simply done nothing.

The result is that while southern California is full of Eastern people investing their capital in lands, Eastern people investing their capital in lands ne towns, and while lands there for orchards as vineyards, unimproved, are worth all the way from $100 to $300 per acre, in northern California there are comparatively but few strangers among us look-ing for investment, and lands of equal quality and rinsic value are awaiting buyers at from $2 50 t 10 per acre. The California Immigration office in Chicago i well supplied with southern California literature distribution, while I have nothing there eally devoted to central and northern California le will not seek a country about which they can go o information. Art in Parasols. It seems as if all that the designer's wit, the weaver's art and the wood-carver's skill afford have been taxed to their fullest in the creation of the fine things in Parasols for the season of 1884. In a collection just received from New York, we find the most original and charming effects displayed, and in a greater variety of forms than ever before. From these goods we see that the general tendency of the new fashions is for Full-size Parasols, elaborately carved sticks, and the extensive use of lace and chenille decoration. Among the novelties received are:

Colored Satin Parasols, with handwork embroidery in raised silk and chenille.

Ecru Ottoman Parasols, with Persian flowers. Lace and Chenille-trimmed Pongee Parasols. Garnet Silk Parasols, with metal ornaments.

Black Satin Parasols, with embossed chenille flowers in bright colors.

Heavy Garnet Brocade Parasols, with garnet and ecru chenille fringe.

Coaching Parasols, in leading shades.

The prices in this new lot of Parasols range from $2 50 to $15, and so large and varied is the collection that we feel we can suit almost every taste and fancy, the early buyers, of course, having the widest scope for selection and the freshest goods.

Advice to Folkers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleus ant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes.
